County Board Chairperson - Mick McGrath

A Chairde, ba mhaith liom fáilte a chur roimh na himreoirí agus foirne bainistíochta chomh maith le na meáin. Seo an cluichu leathcheannais de chraibhchomórtais na bliana seo i gcorn Nioclas Mhic Riocaird agus beidh sé giota beag aisteach is bheith ag imirt gan lucht tacaíocht. Is am an-deacair é seo d'imreoirí, lucht bainistíochta, chomh maith le lucht tacaíochta agus tá áthas ar CLG Dhún na nGall a bheith in ann na cluichí a shruhlú agus clár fíorúil a chuir ar fáil. Ta súil agam go mbainfidh achán duine sult agus taitheamh as an ócáid agus go mbeidh cluiche maith iomána le feiceál anseo i bpáirc Uí Dhomhnaill inniú.

We welcome the players and officials from Donegal and Tyrone to today's Nickey Rackard Championship semi-final in O'Donnell Park. Unfortunately, "all" does not include spectators in these difficult times. Only elite games are being played and only then "behind closed doors". In mitigation, CLG Dhún na nGall have been streaming all Nickey Rackard Championship games to bring inter-county matches to hurling fans in Donegal and elsewhere. Both games to date - against Longford and Armagh - went well but this week TG4 will be live-streaming the game and the link to it can be found on Donegal GAA TV.

2020 has certainly been a year of transformation. The pandemic has seen us battle against the change in our lifestyles, our work, our social fabric, our families, and our sporting involvement. The GAA continue to implement the many prevention measures required to keep Covid-19 at bay. Clubs all over Ireland have stepped up to provide many hours of voluntary assistance raising monies for charities and assisting the HSE, and others, in bringing safe and healthy practice to vulnerable and lonely members of our communities - this programme contains a short tribute to some of our local clubs. On behalf of the GAA in Donegal I thank the frontline workers who have given so much to helping our society in facing the challenge of the coronavirus.

Earlier this year we feared we wouldn't get playing our games, but all difficulties were overcome to conclude the club hurling championships and today we are on the verge of deciding All-Ireland finalists for the Nickey Rackard cup. Both Donegal and Tyrone have realistic ambitions of winning this year's championship and we look forward to a full-blooded encounter between two squads anxious to win Silverwear in 2020.

As always, St Eunans' ground staff have Páirc Uí Dhomhnaill in great shape despite some very poor weather over the last week. Maith sibh. Finally, I wish both teams and the match officials, the best of luck and look forward to an exciting and competitive game.

Hurling Board Chairperson - Manus O'Donnell

A Chairde, ar son Coiste Iomána Dhún na nGall, tá fáilte romhaibh uilig go Páirc Uí Dhómhnaill inniu. Cuirim fáilte roimh na meáin chomh maith agus tá mé sásta go mbeidh deis ag daoine nach dtig leo bheith linn inniu an cluiche a fheiceáil sa bhaile. Táimid ag fulaingt amanna aisteach agus iarraim ar gach duine na rialacháin reatha covid a chomhlíonadh.

On behalf of the Donegal Hurling Board, I would welcome hurlers and officials from Tyrone and Donegal to O'Donnell Park for today's Nicky Rackard Championship semi-final. I also welcome the press and am pleased people who cannot be with us here today have the opportunity to see the match on TG4's live stream.

Tyrone come to Letterkenny on the back of a 1-12 to 2-19 win against Monaghan in Clontibret. They will be confident of their chance to upset the form book this afternoon.

Donegal are also going well, re-discovering the form that seen them win the Allianz 3A title back in March with victories over Longford and Armagh in the first two rounds. With the prize a place in the final next week it is sure to be a competitive and hard fought game.

Both squads will hope to progress to the Final - Donegal looking add the Nicky Rackard Cup to their League title, Tyrone to add to their only previous win, in 2014.

I wish to thank the Naomh Adhamhnáin club for the use of their facilities and to thank the ground staff for having the pitch in such great condition.

Shining a Light on the Events of Bloody Sunday

MICHAEL FOLEY'S EXTRAORDINARY BOOK, 'THE BLOODIED FIELD', GAVE EVERYONE WHO READ IT A TERRIFIC INSIGHT INTO THE EVENTS AND CONSEQUENCE OF BLOODY SUNDAY IN CROKE PARK IN 1920.

He has now doubled-down on this public service by producing 'The Bloodied Field' podcast, which features eight carefully crafted episodes focusing on the build-up, the event and the aftermath of that dark day when 14 innocent civilians were murdered by British Forces at a Gaelic Football challenge match between Tipperary and Dublin.

So, what can those who enjoyed the book expect from the podcast? "For people who enjoyed the book, I suppose it's another dive into that world," Foley told GAA.ie "We've taken the book as the basis and kind of moved stuff around a lot. Obviously there's been a lot of new information as well has come up in the last five or six years so we've been able to push that into it as well. "Really, I suppose it's a re-exploration again of Bloody Sunday, what exactly happened here, and the meaning going forward afterwards." And, again, introducing the victims, the families. I think one of the big things that we've been able to go into that maybe we couldn't, that I wasn't able to go into in the first edition of the book, is the impact on the families after Bloody Sunday.

ACTORS BARRY JOHN KINSELLA, FRONT LEFT, WHO PLAYED THE ROLE OF MICHAEL HOGAN AND JACK GALVIN, WHO PLAYED THE ROLE OF WILLIAM ROBINSON, TWO OF THE 14 VICTIMS OF BLOODY SUNDAY IN A SERIES OF SHORT FILMS BY THE GAA, IN THE COMPANY OF JOURNALIST MICHAEL FOLEY, LEFT, UACHTARÁN CHUMANN LÚTHCHLEAS GAEL JOHN HORAN AND MUSICIAN COLM MAC CON IOMAIRÉ AT THE LAUNCH IN CROKE PARK OF A SPECIAL RANGE OF INITIATIVES BY THE GAA TO FOCUS ON THE MEMORY OF THE 14 PEOPLE WHO WENT TO A MATCH ON BLOODY SUNDAY, NOV 21, 1920 AND NEVER CAME HOME.

"It wasn't just a case of burying their loved ones and moving on, this was an event that stayed with families and stayed with people all the days of their lives and up through the generations and you can see in their stories where that impact seeps out." And, I suppose, from the very beginning of this whole project the whole idea has been to try to get the story out to as many people as possible. So there obviously is a cohort of people who will read the book and hopefully they'll get a lot out of it."

There's also another cohort people who might be more inclined to go listen to a podcast or radio documentary or something like that so we thought it would be a good idea to take the book as the basis for a podcast and just deliver something that would basically tell the story in as broad a way as possible taking as many angles as we can. "Everything from Mick Hogan the player, for example, from Tipp, the British who are here in Ireland at the time, the guys who came to Croke Park, obviously how the shootings happened and the aftermath. And the impact, most importantly, on the families." And to get to know more about the victims themselves, that was the big motivation for the book at the time, the fact that we didn't know a lot about the victims. So, the podcast was another way of really getting their story out there for people to engage with and to get to know them."

Nickey Rackard Semi-final 2020 (Ryan Ferry, Donegal News)

DONEGAL and Tyrone will both go into today's semi-final with belief that they can qualify for the Nicky Rackard Cup decider next week. Both teams know each other very well, and have played regularly in league and championship hurling in recent times.

Donegal won the Nicky Rackard in 2018 in impressive fashion, but despite some decent displays, were relegated from the Christy Ring Cup last year. Tyrone reached the semi-final stage of the Nicky Rackard in 2019, but lost a pulsating match against Armagh by two points in Inniskeen.

The Red Hand county will be keen to make it through to the final this time, but need to find a greater level of consistency. Mattie Lennon's men were well off the pace in their first outing against Mayo, but bounced back to defeat Monaghan by 2-19 to 1-12.

While Donegal did win their opening match they weren't overly convincing in a two-point triumph over Longford. However, they were much improved and won comfortably two weeks ago against an Armagh team, who they have found to be tricky opponents.

Donegal manager Mickey McCann does have injury concerns arising from that match, but young players like Jack O'Loughlin, Kevin Kealy, and Gavin Browne are ready to step up. As always with Tyrone, Damien Casey is the man to stop, but he will get plenty of support from Conor Grogan and Kiefer Morgan.

It's always hard to call when these two neighbouring counties meet, and there will be no holding back with a berth in next week's final on the line.

Go raibh míle maith agaibh to all clubs and GAA volunteers across Donegal who stepped up to the mark during Lockdown

As we enter severe lockdown again we can be thankful we still have more freedoms, including our inter-county games, compared to the total lockdown after the postponement of the Allianz National League back in March. It was a time when all 40 clubs in Donegal stepped up to the plate with a range of activities to help the more vulnerable in our society. Many clubs also directed their energies towards fundraising for local and national charities. Ulster GAA's special Covid-19 micro-site listed 36 Donegal clubs that registering with the Council to detail the activities undertaken. Elsewhere, a total of 24 clubs responded to the Croke Park Survey on Covid-19 specific activities they were undertaking with 23 of them doing grocery and pharmaceutical deliveries (14 providing meals) to the old and vulnerable, 18 sharing public health information and all 24 involved in other support activities.

entertainment are just a few of the undertakings our clubs have initiated. Here are some of the many photos forwarded to Ulster Council.

Donegal footballers also played their part. County teams' pressurized schedules don't normally allow time for charity events. However, with time to spare Global Hydrate have joined Donegal's elite team of sponsors and will be meeting the hydration needs of our Senior football and hurling squads over the next three years. Global Hydrate is one of the first Tetra Top sustainable water brands to give consumer's hydration and an eco-friendly alternative to bottled water. Earlier this year Borrisoleigh Bottling Limited (BBL) launched two new environmentally sensitive boxed water products to the market under the Global Hydrate brand, using water from a famous Artesian well and bottled on site in the small village of Borrisoleigh, Co. Tipperary. The packaging reflects a sensitivity for the environment and seeks to lead the industry towards a more responsible and sustainable future. The first pallets arrived Thursday in time for Donegal's Round 2 Nicky Rackard Hurling match against Armagh and have their second outing with our hurlers today.

CLG Dhún na nGall are delighted to be in tune with the growing movement in global environmental policy against the use of single-use-plastic. Global Hydrate's product approach provides an environmentally friendly packaging choice. The company has also launched a brand aimed at younger fans - Captain Hydrate, a 330ml Kids Carton ideal for school lunch boxes with the aim of educating children on the benefits of sustainable packaging.
